

All is well.
All is well.
Everything is working out for my highest good.
Out of THIS experience only good will come,
and I am safe.

The secret to "The Secret" is really just being willing to be yourself, your full self.
And act like this, and behave like this, and know,
and KNOW,
that it's always in your best interests to do so.
Always.

...As you reach for what feels better – you're on your way,
because if it feels better to you, it's never a mistake,
if it feels better to you, it's not the wrong way,
if it feels better to you, it's Source calling you to completion of that which you are.

Your guidance system will continue to call you forward,
and the path will become clearer and brighter and more obvious to you,
the more downstream turns you take.

Your path feels like relief from where you are.

Your Point of Power is in the Present.
